CONGRESSMAN DELANOIS FOR MR. BLAIN. Congressman Milton DeLano, of Canastota, was in he city yesterday, on his way home from Washington,

He is a delegate to the Republican Convention at Buffalo. When asked about general politics, he said: "As to the Tariff bill, the agony has been postponed until next Saturday, or I would not be here. It is hard to say what the result will be, but I think we have got the votes to defeat the Mills bill, and I am certain that the issue is made on which we will win the Presidential election. The Democratic party cannot win on What about the Presidency ?"

"The growing impression at Washington is that Mr. Blaine will be nominated on the first ballot at Chicago. There is a growing sentiment around Canastota Blaine, of which I have been apprised by frequent letters. It looks to me as though his nomination is now a certainty. HILL HARSHLY HANDLED.

NOT TO BE A DELEGATE-AT-LARGE.

INSUBORDINATE LEADERS MADE TO FEEL THE PRESIDENT'S WEIGHT-"BAT UPON."
Twice this year have the forces of President Cleveland and Governor Hill met in fierce political strife. The first contest, which occurred in February over the election by the State Democratic Committee of a mam-ber to the National Committee, resulted in a draw, to the slarm and amazement of the Administration. The second conflict took place yesterday in the proparation of the "slate" for the Democratic State Convention at the Academy of Music to-day. It ended in a temporary though particularly exasperating defeat for the

Mr. Hill had announced himself as willing and even desirous of leading this State's delegation to the St. Louis Convention, and the selection of him as a delogate-at-large was never seriously questioned until a few days ago. Mayor Grace, E. Ellery Anderson and a few other leaders of the County Democracy began to agitate the matter, and ex-Mayor Cooper, it is said, obtained an ex-pression from the President against Hill. Whether this is so or not, the result was that when the leaders came together yesterday it was decided by a strong majority that Hill should not be one of the delegates-at-large. The Governor's friends, though greatly enraged, accepted the situation, and replied to all inulries last night that the Governor had never really been a candidate, that he would not go if elected, but that if he did really want to go he would do so; re-marks that only provoked a smile on the faces of the

These gentlemen carried things with a high hand. Hill's overthrow was, perhaps, the most signal illus-tration of their methods, but the manner in which They dealt with John Y. McKane and Mayor Gleason, of Long Island City, was equally arbitrary. Both these leaders were practically read out of the party, although they will make a strong fight before the Committee on Contested Seats to-day.

The Morton, Sinclair and Hoffman were the hotels most patronized by the visiting delegates. Mayor Grace was on hand and worked diligently with the countrymen. The more distinguished members of the Convention came in on later trains, and by the time ing, there was scarcely a well-known Democrat in the State who was not present. The Governor's friends, Assemblyman Shoehan and Judge Muller, established headquarters at the Hoffman. Tammany wanted a representative. So did the County Dem-The Kings County men insisted that McLaughlin should be thus honored. The country members were firm in demanding at least two men. Various tickets were made and unmade, but the one most frequently mentioned during the day included the names of ex-Mayor Cooper, Roswell P. Flower, Hugh McLaughlin and George Raines. Raines was taken up after Daniel E. Lockwood, of Buffalo, had positively declined to serve. Other names heard frequently were D. Cady Herrick, Bourke Cockran, Smith M. Weed, and Chairman Murphy, of the State

The committee appointed to select a joint delegation of seventy-two men to represent Tammany and the County Democracy in the Convention met in the afternoon and selected a fairly representative list of each organization, including Richard Croker, J. Edward Simmons, Robert B. Roosevelt, General Spinola, Frederick E. Coudert, Roger A. Pryor, Sheriff Grant, Henry R. Beekman, Joseph J. O'Donohue, Commissioner Pt

SELECTING THE REPRESENTATIVES.

roy and other party leaders. The meeting of the State Committee in the evening was held in Parlor F of the Hoffmann House. All the members answered to their names when Secretary De Freest called the roll except Aqueduct Contractor O'Brien, and he came in shortly afterward. Chairman Murphy, in a low, husky voice, announced the first business of the even ing, that of selecting a temporary chairman for the Convention. Thomas Spratt, the youthful-looking nember from St. Lawrence County, suggested Mayor member from St. Lawrence County, suggested Mayor Chapin. This did not suit the Kings County men. They felt that if the temporary chairmanship was given to them they would not get a delegate-at-large. So they protested against Chapin's nomination. District-Attorney Ridgway made a strong speech against it, and flually Spratt withdrew his motion.

Frederick R. Coudert was then proposed by Commissioner Croker, and he was chosen by a majority of twenty-nine to five. Two secretaries were elected to assist Mr. De Freest. They are Thomas F. Gilroy, of Tammany, and William J. Delancy, of the County Democracy. As soon as these matters had been disposed of, John Y. McKane, of Concy Island, demanded a hearing before the committee. It was granted reliectantly. He protested against the way his friends from Gravescond had been thrown out by the Kings County Central Committee and demanded redress. He was told to go to the Committee on Contested Seats. McKane knew that this was merely a politic way of telling him to clear out. He said that he would go, but warned the committee that action adverse to him would cost the party 2,500 votes in this State. A similar threat was made by Mayor Gleason, who offered to bet $1,000 that Queens County could not be carried against him.

WHAT WILL BE DONE TO DAY. The convention will be called to order at noon. temponry organization will be effected. Tammany Hall are the County Democracy each claim one of the delegatesat-large. This claim is ridiculed by most of the count; delegates, but it is possible that the claim will be allowed. There is no doubt who the County Democracy will name. There is no candidate against ex-Mayor Esward Cooper, but there is a division of sentiment in rammany Hall. Part of the leaders put forward Roswill P. Flower, and the others favor Congressman lourke Cockran. The matter will probably be settled by a vote of the Tammany delegates this morning.

ably be settled by a vote of the Tammany delegates this morning.

There is not such doubt that Kings County will get one of the telegates-at-large, and "Boss" Mc-Laughlin be named by the delegation.

The rooms of the New-Amsterdam Club in West Twenty-fourth-st., have been thrown open to the visiting delegates. This evening there will be a formal reception by the clube of the delegates and their friends. Tammany Hall will eplaced at the disposal of the committees of the Convention.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE MEMBERS ON HAND. The members of the Executive Committee of the Democratic National Comulttee will meet at 11 o'clock this morning at the Fifti Avenue Hotel. Senator Gorman, of Maryland, the is the chairman of this body, said last evening that the only business that would be discused was the arrangements for the St. Louis Convention. But while reason is undesstood to be the desire of the National Committee to be on hand for be purpose of harmon-izing, if possible, the warring fations in the State Con-vention to-day. this is the ostensible object of the meeting the real

A CLERGYMAN'S TRBUTE. To the Editor of The Troune.

Sir: Though I have read The ribene regularly for the last twenty years, I have have laid down a number with such gratification as I did that of to-day. The editorial, "A Nigger is a Ngger," deserves to be incorporated in the next pastord letter of the House of Bishops. I am ashamed to seep company with a set of men so far gone from their awn religious principles and teachings as those white Pharisees in South Carolina. The article on "Church Music," too, is excellent and shows its writer knew what he was writing about when he spoke of Anglicanchors and cathedral schools to nurture them.

A WORD FROM SPANISH AMERICA. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: I notice that you are printing preferences for candidates for President, in The Tribune from all parts of the United States. I feel that I cannot let Colombia go by default. It is safe to say that American citizens resident in this country, generally, and surely all Republica Americans, are a unit for Mr. Blaine. They demand him to put our fallen Nationality on its feet. You cannot imagine how deplorably low the American name is in Spanish America. It seems that no effort is required on the part of Mr. Blaine's friends to "keep him before the people." The people themselves have taken that inatter in hand. Barranquilla, Colombia, April 4, 1888.

RINGING THE CHANGES ON PROHIBITION. The Prohibitionists of this city and of its vicinity suc-ceeded last night in holding at the Metropolitan Opera House their largest agitation meeting of the scason. A large number of vice-presidents, mostly well-known Pro-hibition orators, sat on the platform. Before the speak-ing began the crowd was entertained by a quartet of singers. W. T. Wardwell, chairman of the New-York County Prohibition Party Comittee, called the meeting to order, and Colonel Eli F. Ritter, of Indanapolis, pre-sided. The speakers all made the stock Prohibition argu-ments, ringing more or less ingenious changes on well-known themes. They were the Rev. Dr. A. B. Leonard, of Ohio; the Rev. Dr. J. W. Hamilton, of Massachuretts; the Rev. Dr. C. F. Creighton, of Nebraska, and Professor Samuel Diskie, of Michigan, chairman of the National Prohibition Party Committee. All the speakers attacked high license. Professor Dickie concluded his remarks by saying that high license was an un-Republican and un-American measure, and that the Republican party was incompetent to deal with the new problem.

OBITUARY.

THE REV. DR. JAMES D. WILSON.

The Rev. Dr. James D. Wilson, paster of the Central Presbyterian Church, of this city, died yesterday morning after a long illness. He was born at Spring Mills, Penn., in 1836, and was graduated from Amherst in he class of 1858, and from the Union Theological Seminary in 1863. His first charge was the Spring Street Presbyterian Church, of this city, in which he labored with great success for six years, until in 1869 he accepted the call of the Central Presbyterian Church, then worshipping in a small frame chapel in West Fiftieth-st. Lots were soon secured running through seventh-st., between Broadway and Seventh-are., and after temporary occupancy of a chapel in West Fifty-sixth-st., the congregation built the handsome church and chapel that now stand upon those lots. For nineteen years Dr. Wilson faithfully and zealously served the Central Church, and lived to see it become highly prosperous. His health had been failing for the last five years, and about a year ago, when it was too late, he consented to take the needed rest, and his church granted him sixteen months' leave of absence.

house where he died for nearly half a century. He repeatedly declined political preferment, but served a term in the State Senate a few years ago. He was always consulted by the leaders of the Republican party, to which he was devotedly attached from its earlest history. His wife, one son and four married daughters—Mrs. George L. Whitman, Mrs. Charles Ruikley Rubbell and Mrs. John H. Boswell, of New-York, and Mrs. Charles R. Forrest, of Hartford, sur-

Dr. Howard Pinkney, of No. 24 East Forty-first-st., sailed on May 5 on the Elbe. He left the steamer at Southhampton yesterday and died suddenly in a railroad carriage while on his way to Lendon. The cause of his death is stated to be heart disease.

Dr. Pinkney was born in Henry-st. this city on January 9, 1838, and was the son of William Townsend Pinkney, one of the ten Governors of Public Works. He was educated at the Free Academy, being graduated in 1856. In 1860 he was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and went to Bellevue Hospital as house surgeon. At the breaking out of the war he enlisted in the 9th Regiment and served until 1863 when he resigned, City Army Hospital. While there he married Miss Clara Schley. He was for twenty years senior surgeon of the New-York Eye and Ear Infirmary and wrote a number of pamphlets and articles for magazines and medical journals on diseases of the ear, which were his specialty. He began and carried on for nine years an specialty. He began and carried on for nine years an unsectarian dispensary in connection with the Church of the Holy Trinity in Forty-second-st. He was a member of the County Medical Scolety; of the Academy of Medicine; of the Physicians' Mutual Aid Society and of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, besides several other societies. His only surviving relative is his son, Dr. William Henry Pinkney, who was associated with him in his practice.

William Keeney, age seventy-seven, one of the founders of that section of Jersey City formerly known as Lafayette, died yesterday at his home in Van Horne-st., Jersey City. Mr. Keeney has been suffering for some time from a general debility. He came from Mystic, Conn., forty years ago, and with John R. Hal-Resolutions indorsing Cleveland and Hill will be passed, but if the more conservative members have large tract of land and founded a town which they solidated with Jersey City, but in the meantime it had been built up and improved. Mr. Keeney leaves one son, two daughters and nine grandchildren. A large estate is left for his heirs.

Mr. Keeney served as Police Commissioner and was elected president of the board. He was also for a long time president of the Jersey City and Bergen Railroad Company.

GENERAL HENRY A. SMALLEY.

General Henry A. Smalley, who has been a patient at the Roosevelt Hospital for several days, died there on Sunday from a severe attack of pneumonia. He is a well-known character in New-York, having been con-nected with the Department of Public Works as a civil engineer, and also having been at one time an editorial writer upon "The Star." He was a man of education and literary attainments. His birthplace was Jericho, Vt., where he was born February 28, 1834. He entered graduated in 1854, when he entered the Second United States Artillery. During the war he was made Coloa Brigadier-General at the close of the Rebellion. He was a brother of Colonel B. B. Smalley, secretary of the Democratic National Convention.

Alonzo B. Simonds, president of the Simonds Soap Company, died suddenly last Friday of rheumatism of the heart. He was an agnostic, and had always forbidden the preaching of a sermon or the use of crape at his funeral, the cost of which, including cremation, he directed to be kept within $100. In accordance with his instructions, there were no funeral services, but on Sunday afternoon many friends called at his home, No. 46 Seventh-ave., to pay their last respects. The body was then taken to Fresh Pord, L. I., and cremated. Mr. Simonds was wealthy, and leaves two sons, the oldest being about twenty.

SILK HATS AND RAINY WEATHER.

From The Hatter and Furrer.

"Have you ever noticed," sail a Philadelphia merchant, "that if you put your slik hat on in the morning and forget to take your umbrells with you it is just sure to rain before you get back? I can give you an illustration which will prove my theory conclusively—at least it did to to my mind. A number of years ago I was living in ancaster County, and it was very dry; so, dry, indeed, that at many of the country churches they had begun to hid services every day to pray for rain. Several weeks placed, however, and still no rain. My uncle, with whom I us stopping, was a devout Christian, and also believed in he efficacy of prayer to induce the Suprame Ruler to ope, the doodgates of Heaven and motian the parched cart. He attended the cervices regularly, and poured forthmany an earnest appeal. I have no doubt but the fact bat he had about cighty acres of corn, which was beling completely dried up, made him all the more carnest, but, 2 any rate, when many had given up all hope of it ever raining again, and the more superstitious, my uncle among bem, had made up their minds that the end of the world was chose at hand, arrangements were made to hald an all-day for the first time since his marriage, forty years before, go, on his high slik hat and were it. I shall never forget how odd it looked, for, of course, it was very much out of siyle and resembled an antique relie. Well, would you televe it, before he got home big banks of clouds came up, and I never saw it rain harder. Of course, as my ancle had not taken an umbrella with him that mornings, his antique hat was ruined. The other people all attributed that rain to the many supplications that were offered up that day, but I have always had another theory as a what brought it on. I think it was because my uncle fore his slik hat."

THE TARIFF DISCUSSION.

A CONTRIBUTION BY O'NEALL OF INDIANA.

LINDLEY MURRAY DEFIED BY THE HOOSIER STATES MAN-DEMOCRATS DISAGREE.

WASHINGTON, May 14.-If the tariff quest depended for its solution on length of wind and loudness of voice, the free-traders would have a walk-over. This has been frequently demonstrated during the debate, but more especially to-day. The Democrats took all their time, and more, too; the Republicans not only kept within their limit, but sometimes " went halves."

Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, began it. He is the champion of the agricultural interests, with a voice befitting his self-conferred role. In suitable tones he declared himself in favor of abolishing all protective measures and threatened that if the bill now introduced, which he regretted to say, preserved all the essential features of protection, but slightly modified, were rejected, the people at the next election would return a Congress pledged to wipe the last vestige of protection from the statute After a mild interlude of temperate argument gained the floor. He had so much speech bottled last five years, and about a year ago, when it was too late, he consented to take the needed rest, and his church granted him sixteen months' leave of absence. He leaves a widow and four children, two sens and two daughters. The funeral will take place at the Central Church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the burial will be at Lewisburg. Penn., to-morrow. At the funeral seats will be reserved for the New-York Presbytery, for members of the Chi Alpha Society and for aiumni of Amherst College.

At a meeting of the Presbytery yesterday morning, the Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby referred to the death of Dr. Wilson, placing a high estimate upon his character and labore; and a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions expressive of the regret of the Presbytery at the loss of their fellow-member, and of condolence with his family. The Amherst alumni of New-York yesterday cleeted the following committee to attend the funeral: The Rev. Drs. William Hayes Ward and Joseph B. Clark; Dr. T. F. Allen, Elilott Sanford, Copionel S. J. Storrs and Herbert L. Bridgman.

WILLIAM H. CHANDLER.

Thompson, Conn., May 14 (Special).—William H. Chandler, for many years one of the best known and most influential residents of Eastern Connecticut, died yesterday morning. He was graduated at Yale College in the class of 1839 and afterward studied law at Harvard University. He was compelled to abandon his plans in connection with his chosen profession on account of III health. Afterward be outirely recovered his health by leading an out-door life. He lived in this community and in the same house where he died for nearly half a century. He repeatedly declined political preferment, but served to the superior refragibility, as on account of III health. Afterward be outirely recovered his health by leading an out-door life. so."

Once or twice, Bayne, of Pennsylvania, and others sought to bring him down to the region of tangible, intelligible facts. O'Neall tolerated the interruptions twice; the third time, placing his hands on his hips, in the manner made familiar by the pictures of the older Grimaldi, he replied: replied:
"I have submitted to all the impertinence I am going to submit to."

This retort was received with shouts of laughter This retort was received with shouts of laughter from his party associates. Meanwhile his allotted time had long since expired, and Mr. Stone, of Kentucky, who had yielded a part of his own time to Mr. O'Neall with the distinct understanding that enough should be left him for his own speech, lost patience, and sent up, by a page, a note asking Mr. O'Neall to close up, Mr. O'Neall stopped in the middle of a sentence and read the note, and shortly afterward sat down amidst the plaudits of the Democrats.

The extension of the time for general debate on amidst the plaudits of the Democrats.

The extension of the time for general debate on the tariff from Wednesday to Saturday next is understood to have been brought about, not so much by the need of more long-winded speeches on the Administration side, as by the difficulty which the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee find in determining what amendments they will accept. "The Washington Star" this evening confirms the statement published in these dispatches several days ago that great differences of opinion exist among the Democratic members and says that though hearings have been given to half a dozen Representatives upon the subject matter says that though hearings have been given to half a dozen Representatives upon the subject matter of the amendments proposed by them, the effect has not been to simplify the labors of the committee, because of the wide variance of views expressed by the Representatives upon identical clauses of the bill. One Democrat, for instance, has proposed to put finished building stone on the free list, while placing a high duty on the rough stone, others ask for free building stone in the rough blocks, and protection for the dressed product. A New-York member offers an amendment to change the existing law in exactly the manner al-louder. It is announced that Mr. Randall will take the floor on Thursday. The existing disagreements among the Democratic tariff reformers will not be lessened by the arguments he is likely to present.

FOR A NEW ISSUE OF BONDS. SPOONER INTRODUCES IN THE SENATE THE SCHEME OF A RETIRED WISCONSIN BUSINESS

Washington, May 14 (Special) .- Senator Spooner in troduced by request in the Senate to-day a bill providing for an issue of new bonds. The new securities are to be known as twe-and-one-half per cent interchangeable bonds, payable, principal and interest, in coin, and bearing two-and-one-half per cent interest, payable in fifty years, to be exchanged for Government currency, Treasury notes of the United States and any other class of bonds now outstanding, and for nothing else. When such exchange is made for Government currency now issued, or for any class of Government bonds now outstanding, said currency, or bonds, or both, are to be destroyed. The bonds are to be issued in denominations of one hundred dollars or any multiple thereof.

The Secretary of the Treasury is required to issue Treasury notes in sums of $2, $3, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, and to have printed on the face of each:

This note is redeemable in soin on presentation at the Treasury of the United States, when presented in amounts of $100 or any multiple of that sum, and receivable for all dues to the Governmen, and exchangeable only for the aforestid 2 1-2 per cent bonds in amounts of $100 or any multiple thereof at their face value, with accrued interest on said bonds added.

All National banks are to be allowed to exchange their bonds now deposited by them for the security of their currency issue for these 2 1-2 per cent bonds, and banks is to be exempt from taxation, except a tax of one-half of 1 per cent to be levied for the establishment of an insurance fund. The National debt is not to be reduced below the amount of a billion of dollars. All National banks exchanging their 2 1-2 per cent bonds for Government currency are to pay te the Government a tax of one-half of 1 per cent on the amount of the currency received, this money to be used as an insurance fund to protect the Government and the depositions of any National bank from loss in case of the bank's failure. The Government is to issue to each bank an amount of currency above that received in exchange for bonds, so as to make the interest on the excess issued equal to 1-2 per cent paid by the banks. For further security, in case of the failure of the bank. For further security, in case of the failure of the bank. Mr. Spooner stated this afternoon that the bill was the scheme of a retired business man of Whitewater, Wis., named Easterly. of an insurance fund. The National debt is not to be

A REPORT ON THE ARTHUR KILL BRIDGE. Washington, May 14 (Special),—The Senate Commerce Committee has received the report of the Board of Engineers which examined the Arthur Kill Bridge with a view to determining whether or not it is an obstruction to navigation. The Board submits a majority and a minority report. The majority of the Board, composed of Thomas Lincoln Casey, Henry M. Roberts, and Peter C. Haines reports that the Board is united in the opinion that the Bridge should be raised to fifty feet above mean high water mark but that the main span of the bridge should be made 400 feet in width with a draw on the New-Jorsey side, while the minority does not think that this is necessary. The minority thinks that while the bridge, if constructed according to the present plans, will be something of an obstruction to navigation, 81 per cent of the com-merce of the Kill will not be affected by it and that the other 19 per cent should suffer for the general good. The reports are accompanied by nearly 400 pages of testimony, affidavits, etc.

The matter will not be taken up until the River and Harbor bill is disposed of.

THE NOMINATION OF MR. FULLER.

Washington, May 14 (Special).—The consideration of the united States was postponed by the Senate Committee on the Judiciary until next Monday. The nomination therefore has not even been referred to a sub-committee. As the Supreme Court adjourned to-day for the term, there appears no reason why the Senate should exercise unusual diligence in disposing of the nomination. While there is no disposition whatever in the senate of the services and services are respectfully united.

TO OVERRIDE PRESIDENTIAL VETOES hington, May 14 (Special).—The veto by the Pres tdent of pension bills and other measures submit for his action has not met with much favor at the hands of members of Congress, but Senator Stewart is probably the first to voice the general sentiment in a practical form. He offered an amendment to the Constitution to-day which proposes to reduce from two-thirds to a majority, the vote in each house of Congress necessary to override presidential vetoes. He remarked rather significantly that the time had come for such a change, and said that he would at a convenient time make some remarks on the subject.

TO INVESTIGATE THE BEEF TRUST. Washington, May 14 (Special).—Mr. Vest offered a solution for the appointment of a select committee of five Senators to examine fully all questions touch-ing the meat product of the United States, and especially as to the transportation of beef and beef cattle and the sale of the same in the cattle markets existed any combination of any kind by reason of which the prices of beef and beef cattle have been so controlled or affected as to diminish the prices paid to the producer without lessening the cost of meat to the consumer, the committee to be permitted to hold its sessions during the recess.

Mr. Vest asked that the resolution be printed and laid on the table, and gave notice that he would call it up to-morrow.

ARREARAGES OF PENSIONS BILL Washington, May 14.—Through its chairman, Representative Matson, the House Committee on Invalid

Pensions to-day reported a bill proposing to remove the restriction upon the payment of arrearages of pensions in the case of claims filed before the passage of the bill. The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to adjudicate all pension claims on account of disabilities, wounds or injuries, or on account of death because of wounds or injuries, or on account of death because of disabilities, wounds or injuries incurred since March 4, 1861, filed on and after July 1, 1880, and up to the date of the passage of the bill, and to readjudicate all such claims as have been allowed or filed as aforesaid as if they had been filed prior to July 1, 1880.

The report accompanying the bill states that it is a substitute for a number of bills on the same subject. The estimated cost of this legislation is $250,000,000, and it is suggested that this is the best way to distribute the surplus. GRADUATES OF ANNAPOLIS.

Washington, May 14 (Special).-Senator Cameron in troduced in the Senate this morning a bill relating to the Naval Academy. It provides that appointments made from the graduates of the Academy to positions in the lower grades of the line or of the Engineer Corps of the Navy and the Marine Corps shall be not less than nineteen each year, distributed as follows less than nineteen each year, distributed as follows:
Fourteen to the Line, four to the Engineer Corps and one to the Marine Corps.
Cadets shall be appointed to the Academy a year in advance of their entering except where a vacancy occurs through death or some other peculiar cause. Cadets are to be between seventeen and twonty-two years of age.

GOVERNMENT PURCHASE OF BONDS. Washington, May 14 .- The Secretary of the Treasury this afternoon accepted $353,150 in bonds as follows: Four per cents, registered, $156,000 at 127; four per cents, coupon, $49,550 at 127; four and a half per cents, registered, $128,100 at 103; and four and a half per cents, coupon, $19,500 at 108.

The new management of the Staten Island Athletic Club has been unusually active this season, and the club has been fortunate in having the proper men at the head of the various departments. The club-house is undergoing entire alterations, and will be entirely refitted within the next week. The basebaff team is doing excellent work under the management of H. J. Tyndale, with Spaulding de Garmendia as captain.
The yachting department has already had a harbor built adjoining the elegant boat-house, and intends giving a large open regatta soon. The Janssen brothers are in charge of the rowing and athletic de-brothers are in charge of the rowing and athletic de-partments, and a number of the best athletes will work for the club's success.

The eleventh annual spring meeting of the club will be held on the club grounds, at West New-Brighton, on June 2. The following handicap events will be open to amateurs: One hundred and twenty yards ran on turf, 220 yards hundle race, 600 yards run, one mile run, one mile walk, two mile bleycle race, running high jump; steeplechase, about 3-4 of a mine, scratch.

RAVAGES OF THE PHYLLOXERA.

tee, because of the wide variance of views expressed by the Representatives upon identical clauses of the bill. One Democrat, for instance, has proposed to put finished building stone on the free list, while placing a high duty on the rough stone, others ask for free building stone in the rough blocks, and protection for the dressed product. A New-York member offers an amendment to change the existing law in exactly the manner already proposed by the bill, while a prominent Western member wants the particular article of manufacture placed on the free list.

To those admissions from a not unfriendly source may be added the fact that the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee have spent most of their time since the recent cancus in dodging the cards presented by the constituents of Democratic Congressmen. The divergencies of opinion between New-York Democratic members and the committee grow wider daily, and the complaints of favoritism shown to certain districts louder. It is announced that Mr. Randall will by the diminished production during the last thirden years, which is taken at one hundred and twenty millions, the above-mentioned sum is arrived at.

A CONUNDRUM FOR DR. PAXION.

From The Pittsburg Times.

The Rev. John R. Paxton, who is well remembered in Pittsburg, has been elected Chaplain of the Seventh Regiment, New-York. He served as a private through the war of the rebellion. In a somewhat remarkable sermon last week he uttered a number of noteworthy things, and related a bit of experience in the trenches, while the shells were pouring in hot and heavy. The trench was crowded and for better convenience he exchanged places with another, who the next moment was blown to atoms. Said the pseacher: "Some would call that fate. Some others—the fools—call it luck. I call it God!" Curiosity is expressed as to the view the man who was blown up takes.

BANGELEY LAKES STILL ICE BOUND.

From The Boston Transcript.

For the benefit of a number of his friends who are making preparations for starting into the Rangeleys on hunting and fishing excursions, the Listener will relate the account of things up that way given him by a visitor who called yesterday, and who had just left the region. He says that the Rangeleys are still frozen over and are not likely to "open up for use" for ten days or so. The Listener's visitor lives about ten miles from Bryant's Pend, which is one of the gangways, so to speak, to the lakes. Sleighing was good there last Wednesday. The summer comes all at once in that region, but it is quite evident that it has not arrived there yet; and Boston anglers who are about to start out to fly or buy trout at the Rangeleys had better "bide a wee."
